Message From Rabbi Yachnes:

ALWAYS CONSULT: The Medrash (Yalkut Shimoni 524:20) says that Nadav and Avihu sinned by not consulting with each other about bringing an offering that Hashem had not instructed them to bring. But why should they? They were both great Tzaddikim and they each separately came to the very same conclusion? Rav Henoch Leibowitz zt'l explained that seeking advice, consulting and discussion, clarify and crystallize matters which may result in people seeing things differently. And this is true whether the other person is greater, equal, or of lesser greatness. Always consult! May we hear only good news from Eretz Yisroel. Have a wonderful Shabbos.

Butterfly Garden!

This week brought a fantastic new addition to our gardening and zoology outdoor area. The children began to plant MTA's very own butterfly garden! With the guidance of Ms. Robbins, students eagerly prepared the soil and carefully planted the garden, using shovels and soil. As we eagerly anticipate the growth of our garden, the students can't wait to nurture it further and witness the array of butterflies it will attract in the coming weeks!

2nd and 3rd grade putting together their beautiful Haggados!

4th grade presents their women's history projects in Mrs. Fischer's class!

STEM-TASTIC CREATIONS

This week in STEM, the children explored parquetry creations using mosaic tiles! Paired up, the students were given the challenge of recreating geometric designs. Through collaborative teamwork and critical thinking, each group successfully pieced together their designs with the help of Ms. Robbins!
